

How to Register a New Camper for Quest Camp as an ESY Placement

Are you a parent who is looking for a fun, safe and therapeutic environment for a child ages 6-18 to fulfill their IEP goals related to Extended School Year programming? Does Quest's system of positive behavior support and individualized goals sound like a good fit for your child's needs? If yes, here's a visual guide to assist you in better understanding our registration process:

Parents and school staff should discuss if the child qualifies for ESY and what types of programming might be a good fit.

Register

Parents/caregivers can then register their child for camp on-line using the ESY code on the Quest website at <http://questcamps.com/>.

The point person at the school and/or the child's parent should email* Quest Camp Director April Artz at aartz@jfcspgh.org to determine if the child might appropriate for Quest. They should include: referral source (if any), child's age, and school placement.

The school approves Quest as an ESY placement. Parents and school staff should be in agreement regarding the number of weeks a child is approved to attend. There is a minimum of 3 consecutive weeks.

Reach out to the Quest Camp Director April Artz* at aartz@jfcspgh.org to schedule an hour long screening to take place at April's office with the child and their caregiver. There is a screening fee.

If Quest is a fit for your child and vice versa, you will obtain an ESY code at the screening.

*If you do not have access to email, you may also call April Artz at 412-877-7528. But email is preferred.
